EAST INDIES.

The Bombay Gazette of 14th December puts us in possession of news from the 28th of November, up to that date. From their overland summary of Indian intelligence, we quote as under:—

BENGAL.

The Burmese Amban and suite landed at Calcutta on the morning of the 28th November, with all their pomp and pageantry considered due to his exalted rank. The Envoy brought with him some presents consisting of eight handsome ponies and innumerable boxes with conical lids. Canvas carpets were laid down over the steps of the Ghaut up to the Strand-road, in order to prevent the "golden foot" from being disturbed. After landing, he was conveyed to his quarters in the Fort in the state carriages, followed by the whole suite of his attendants. He was given a week's experience as Police Magistrate, it is, we imagine, to return to the place from whence he came. Should Mr. Muspratt go home soon, as some expect and not a few perhaps wish, though of course we all wish him well, the arrangements which have had effect during these few weeks will doubtless be resumed.

We learn from Surat that there has been bad weather there, and along the Gulf of Cambay, something like a cyclone, which has proved very disastrous to Native craft, and will have caused, we fear, no small loss of cotton and other produce.

The fourth and last Criminal Sessions of this year commenced at Bombay on the 6th instant, before the Honourable Sir Charles Jackson. The Calendar on this occasion is, we are sorry to say, a very heavy one, there being no fewer than thirty cases, comprising various offences against the State, including the number of offenders forty-nine. There are four cases of wilful murder; manslaughter, one; cutting and wounding, one; perjury and other minor offences, three.

Colonel Goodwin has sent in his plans and estimates for the erection of the College of Engineering.

The estimate amounts to five lakhs and ninety-two thousand rupees; this sum includes every item for the building of the central College, and the training school and the practical departments.

We are glad to learn that the electric telegraph wires are being laid along the line from Rangoon upwards. This work was only commenced some short time since, but considerable progress has already been made, although some difficulty is experienced in straightening the coils, for which operation there are regular machines which have not been furnished from Bengal as yet.

MADRAS.

The Madras Spectator of the 20th ultimo has the following:—"On Thursday evening took place the ball before mentioned by us, with which the bachelors of Madras had gallantly determined to entertain the society of the place. The banqueting room, which Lord Harris most kindly placed at the disposal of the hosts, was tastefully adorned for the occasion, and brightly illuminated both within and without. A large number of guests present to partake of the festivities, and the Governor and Consul, in whom honoured the ball by attending it. It is needless to say that female grace and beauty lent enchantment to the scene. Owing to the coolness of the weather, dancing was particularly delightful, and was kept up with great spirit, both before and after supper. The Governor's Band and the String Band of his Majesty's 43rd Regiment played their parts to admiration, and the entertainment altogether went off capitally, to the great enjoyment of the company assembled, who had the pleasure of the bachelors for an evening most agreeably spent. The refreshment, both occasional and at the supper tables, which last were laid in the galleries, did all honour to the hospitalities of the hosts, and the skill of Messrs. Laybourn and Co., who provided them. Wines and wines were abundantly supplied, and all excellent of their kind, and we may add that they had just arrived."

With deep regret we learn, says the Spectator of the 27th ultimo, "that the public distress consequent on the high prices of grain stuffs, has been rather increased than alleviated; the barat rates for rice having again risen, through the extortionate practices of the avaricious dealers, who not only combine to make the most of the real scarcity and a bad season, but further take measures to prevent supplies from coming in. One of their manœuvres, is that of using their power vested in them, by correspondents at Calcutta, who have a right to their place to despatch the grain, bringing it to Ceylon, where the greatest scarcity secures higher rates still. This, however, may be apologized for by the argument, that they are bound to use their discretion to the best advantage of those who gave it, but not with respect to another and worse 'dodge.' Knowing that considerable quantities of grain have been despatched from up country to the relief of the market of Madras, we are inclined to suppose by which it is expected, and make what we can of the chances—of course at favourable rates—distant from the Presidency, and then keep the bandy loads from coming in except by two and three, in order to prolong the local deficiency and maintain their exorbitant retail trade, by the cry of short stocks. That abominable practice of course answers their end, at the expense of the public, and not violently. The only mode of circumventing the offenders, is for the wealthy natives to buy a quantity of grain into the market, for sale to the people at fair prices, which would compel the avaricious traders to give way. Unless so out-maneuvred, they are likely to continue their bad game for some time to come. The particulars of a large transaction of the kind were brought to our notice a few hours before we wrote, and we have heard in the general of many more. Care is, however, necessary to ascertain the names of these bandy bands, who aggregate the severity of the Providential dispensation that has come to the poor countrymen so dear, we should make them public, as a mark for general reprobation, under circumstances like the present. It is a consolatory reflection; however, as Mr. Pecksniff would say, that a good deal of grain looting goes on along the roads, and that their hoarded bags may perchance fall a prey to the spoiler, as the event would both punish them, and expedite the arrival of supplies a mense."

BOMBAY.

Major General Sir Henry Somerset, Commander of the Forces, now residing at Poona, is engaged in carrying out the plan of the late Lord Frederick Fitzclarence, of forming an Army of Exercise on the plains of the ancient Capital of the Deccan.

Colonel Green, C. B., has been appointed Deputy Adjutant General of the Army in succession to Colonel Hale, appointed a Brigadier of the second Lieutenant Rosser, of the 10th Royal Hussars, has been appointed Interpreter to the Commander of the Forces.

Captain S. Thacker, of the 9th Regiment Native Infantry, is appointed Brigade Major on the Establishment.

The 10th Royal Hussars, now at Kirkcud, have again been warned for service in Turkey, and are to leave the shores of India for good about the middle of January. Captain Ramsey, and Lieutenant Gull of the Quarter-Master-General's Department, proceed to Suez by the steamer which leaves to-day, to make arrangements for the transit through Egypt of the 10th Hussars.

From this date (14th December), the P. O. Company's steamers will carry the mails between this and Suez.

The China mail arrived at Bombay on the 3rd instant, by Mr. P. and O. Company's steamer Malta, having been delayed by the bad weather from the 1st November, and Canton the 8th. As usual the price of the sub-scribers are contradictory, and neither party has gained any decisive advantage in the civil war now raging in the Celestial Empire; though by a telegraphic message from Calcutta, just received, we learn that Canton had been taken by the rebels. Exchange is down; so is Malwa opium.

Bombay was visited on the evening of the 8th of December by a great earthquake. It appears to have been felt in almost all the neighbouring districts of Bombay. It was a slow rumbling noise, about ten seconds' duration, and a rather startling vibration through the houses. It seemed to proceed from N.E. to S.W. We have not heard of any mischief done either to property or life.

Mr. Faithful, who came out by the last mail, has been sworn before a full Court as an attorney of the Supreme Court. He joins Mr. Pollock, we understand, in a considerable state of disquietude.

Mr. H. D. Cartwright and Mr. Rustonjee Jamsetjee have been elected two of the Directors of the Bank of Bombay, in place of Mr. James Hunter and Mr. Cursetjee Jamsetjee, retired by rotation.

Mr. W. W. Bell, at present acting collector of Ahmednugge, has been appointed collector and magistrate of Belgaum and political agent in the Southern Mahratta country, in succession to Mr. J. D. Inverness, gone home.

Mr. Seton Karr is confirmed in the appointment of collector and magistrate of Tanna, and Mr. Lestock Reid is promoted to be sub-collector and joint magistrate of Colaba.

The local Governments—those of Bombay and Madras—have received an extension of their power to spend a sum of money on particular public works, or on works of a temporary character. Heretofore the limit has been 10,000 rupees to be spent on any particular work. Now it is to be 24,000 rupees. The power of the Governor General in such cases, which has heretofore been limited to 50,000 rupees, has been at the same time extended to a lac.

Mr. Corfield has resumed the duties of his office of Senior Magistrate of Police.—Mr. Muspratt having his appointment from the Neelgherries, and Mr. Hulbert, after a few weeks' experience as Police Magistrate, is, we imagine, to return to the place from whence he came. Should Mr. Muspratt go home soon, as some expect and not a few perhaps wish, though of course we all wish him well, the arrangements which have had effect during these few weeks will doubtless be resumed.

We learn from Surat that there has been bad weather there, and along the Gulf of Cambay, something like a cyclone, which has proved very disastrous to Native craft, and will have caused, we fear, no small loss of cotton and other produce.

CENTRAL POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY.

BARON'S MR. ALLEN.—Mr. McLELIE, and Mr. Hill. Eight persons were charged with drunkenness: two were sentenced to pay 40s. and four to pay 20s. each, with a usual alternative for non payment; and one (Mary Ann Chalder) was sent to gaol for one month as an idle and disorderly character.

The general list comprised sixteen cases. Four of these were discharged, six postponed, and three sent on for trial.

Charlie Gerard was brought forward charged with having, while drunk, assaulted his own daughter, about eight years of age, by biting. Mrs. Gerard denied that her defendant (her husband) had been drinking to excess, and she believed was out of his mind; but a drunken fit yesterday he hit the child now in Court, and she feared for her own safety. Ordered to give sureties to keep the peace; otherwise to be imprisoned for fourteen days.

William Cooper, convicted of using obscene language in a public place, was sentenced to pay 40s., or to be imprisoned for forty-nine hours.

Rodney Walker was charged with stealing, and was sent to gaol for six months. Henry Brandon with receiving a quantity of the value of £11, the property of a person named Slater, and others his partners. The prosecutor deposed that on Thursday evening he purchased from the cook of the William Denny a quantity of fat, which yesterday he placed on the Market Wharf; that morning he inquired of Hawkes if it was fit, he was told it was not; he purchased it of the cook, and sold it to a washerman Brandon; he took witness to Brandon, told him that the fat belonged to witness, and offered him back the money; Brandon refused to take the money from Hawkes or to give up the fat, whereupon prosecutor gave both into custody. Committed for trial. Bail allowed in £100, with two sureties, each £50.

Hugh McGuire, apprehended by Inspector Sington, at 1 o'clock in the morning, in the act of having a drunken man lying asleep near Edward's Alley, York street, was committed to take his trial for the offence. It appears that prisoner is a convict messenger attached to Captain MacLean's department. Joseph William Roberts was charged with wilfully neglecting his children. From the evidence of Mrs. Farrell, residing in Clarence-street, it appeared that some seven or eight months ago, when she was there, he went with his children to lodge at Mrs. (Mrs. Farrell's) house, and a few hours or twice since clandestinely took himself off, leaving her two children as well as £6 of an unpaid account; on last Wednesday she was about to take them to the Benevolent Asylum, but accidentally meeting him she told him of his intention, when he took them away; last night she found the younger child in Pitt-street, crying for food, and took him home with her; the elder, she had no doubt, was running about the streets; she stood by the roadside, and in a half hour of the Court of Requests, and in receipt of from £6 to 27 per week, which he squandered in drink. Roberts denied that his income was as stated by Mrs. Farrell, and told the Bench that he had no home for his children, but that he had been endeavouring to procure their admission into the Destitute Children's Asylum. He would, however, very willingly pay for their maintenance if Mrs. Farrell would take charge of them. Mrs. Farrell said she would not take him (her son) in, as she had a child of her own in order that the father might be either compelled to provide for or be punished for neglecting his offspring. Mr. Redman, who was in Court, suggested that perhaps if opportunity were afforded to defendant he might be able to make arrangements for the care of his children; and that a week's postponement of the case might result satisfactorily. If their worship thought that Roberts' professions were sincere, and would postpone the case, he (Mr. Redman), in order to facilitate the arrangements, would, for the protection of the children in the meantime. The Bench acknowledged Mr. Redman's kindness, and acceded to his suggestion. Case postponed until next Monday week.

THE ROSTER.—The following justices have been summoned for Bench duties during the present week:—Monday, April 16, Mr. Samuel and Mr. Thorne; Tuesday, 17, Mr. Towns and Mr. Thornton; Wednesday, 18, Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Weeks; Thursday, 19, Mr. Alexander and Mr. Atkins; Friday, 20, Mr. Allardice and Mr. Barker.

WATER POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY.

Before the Water Police Magistrate.

Thomas Hentz was arraigned on the charge of stealing a pair of boots, the property of Mary Reardon, a widow, residing with her daughter at 120, Cumberland-street, under the following circumstances:—About a month ago, he engaged to board and lodge at the house of the daughter of procurator; paid for the first week's accommodation, but neglected to pay for the second, and, in consequence, was taken into custody for the fortnight, and being unable to pay, was requested to vacate his apartment; he did so on Saturday last, taking away with him a pair of boots belonging to procurator, throwing his own down the closet. As soon as the boots were missed, information was given to the police, and on Friday last, prisoner was apprehended, and the boots on his feet were identified by Mrs. Reardon, as her property. Friend had nothing to say in his own defence, and was committed to take his trial at the next Quarter Sessions.

John Ferguson appeared upon summons, to answer the information of Mary Ann McLean, charging him with assaulting her on Wednesday last. Complainant is in possession of premises in Globe-street, and defendant was her tenant, having taken a house of her at a weekly rental of £1 per week, and paid rent up to the first Friday, but, since he neglected to do so, on the day of question, he was compelled to pay the same, and, in consequence, was taken into custody, and, for whose payment he was unable to pay, was committed to the defendant's house and requested payment: he ordered her out of the house, but before she had time to leave he took her by the shoulder and pushed her down two steps into the street. Fined 20s. with 4d. costs.

THE ROSTER.—The following gentlemen are summoned to attend the Water Police Court:—On Monday (to-day), Messrs. Murnin, and Ross; on Thursday, Messrs. Ronald, and Robey.

THORN DISCIPLINE.—It is a common error, even among magistrates, to suppose that imprisonment with hard labour is a severer punishment than imprisonment without hard labour. So far from there being any ground for this belief, it will be seen on enquiry that precisely the reverse is the case. In the first place, under a sentence of simple imprisonment, it is done, and under a sentence of imprisonment with hard labour, it is done, like anything else of new goods, just landed, from England, comprising some of the newest patterns and finest class qualities. For particulars see advertisement.—Anv.

MISKA HAUSER.—This evening, at the New Concert Hall at the Royal Hotel, Misca Hauser gave the first of a series of grand concerts, with which he, for a musical purpose, will take a brief tour of Australia. The programme is arranged in his usual excellent taste, including selections from the most popular music. He will be assisted by Monsieur E. Boulangier, Mr. Stanley, Mr. F. Ellard, Mr. Banks, a vocalist of whom report speaks highly.—Miss Flora Harris, and Mr. Spence. In noticing the opening of the New Concert Hall under such favourable auspices, it is due to Mrs. John Sparkes to advert to the liberality with which costly and elegant arrangements have been made to supply the stage with so handsomely fitted out, for a season of sufficient capacity to accommodate our musical circles. Misca Hauser's performances on this occasion will be a grand fantasia on the air from the operas of Lucrezia Borgia; a Bouquet Irlanis, in which is wreathed some delightful recollections of Erin's Isle; the exquisite caprice of the Bird on the Tree; and in which he will be assisted by Mr. Frederic Ellard, a D. Brinley, and others. His selections are for violin, and piano, and for the organ. Boulangier's selections are his own compositions. Medicinal Harmonicas, with L'Elisir d'Amore, and Thalberg's famous Marche Funèbre. Mr. Ellard sings the Andante Pastorale, from Meyerbeer's Prophète, and Du Schone's Fischer-madchen, composed for him by Misca Hauser.

William Cooper, convicted of using obscene language in a public place, was sentenced to pay 40s., or to be imprisoned for forty-nine hours.

Rodney Walker was charged with stealing, and was sent to gaol for six months. Henry Brandon with receiving a quantity of the value of £11, the property of a person named Slater, and others his partners. The prosecutor deposed that on Thursday evening he purchased from the cook of the William Denny a quantity of fat, which yesterday he placed on the Market Wharf; that morning he inquired of Hawkes if it was fit, he was told it was not; he purchased it of the cook, and sold it to a washerman Brandon; he took witness to Brandon, told him that the fat belonged to witness, and offered him back the money; Brandon refused to take the money from Hawkes or to give up the fat, whereupon prosecutor gave both into custody. Committed for trial. Bail allowed in £100, with two sureties, each £50.

Hugh McGuire, apprehended by Inspector Sington, at 1 o'clock in the morning, in the act of having a drunken man lying asleep near Edward's Alley, York street, was committed to take his trial for the offence. It appears that prisoner is a convict messenger attached to Captain MacLean's department.

Joseph William Roberts was charged with wilfully neglecting his children. From the evidence of Mrs. Farrell, residing in Clarence-street, it appeared that some seven or eight months ago, when she was there, he went with his children to lodge at Mrs. (Mrs. Farrell's) house, and a few hours or twice since clandestinely took himself off, leaving her two children as well as £6 of an unpaid account; on last Wednesday she was about to take them to the Benevolent Asylum, but accidentally meeting him she told him of his intention, when he took them away; last night she found the younger child in Pitt-street, crying for food, and took him home with her; the elder, she had no doubt, was running about the streets; she stood by the roadside, and
